

10th AFRICAN ACCOUNTING AND FINANCE CONFERENCE

Annual (Virtual) AAFA Conference and Colloquium

Main Conference: 2nd – 3rd September 2021

Emerging Scholars Colloquium: 1st September 2021

Submission date extended to Monday 21 June 2021

1. Final Call for Papers (June 2021)

The African Accounting and Finance Association (AAFA), established in 2011, is Africa's continent-wide accounting and finance academic association. One of the distinguishing features of AAFA is to embrace all African regions including Anglophone and Francophone countries. The quality and reputation of AAFA's activities are reflected in its wide membership across Africa and the close involvement of leading African Diaspora academics from universities across the globe.

The AAFA will be hosting the 10th virtual annual AAFA conference and emerging scholars' colloquium for accounting and finance participants. The annual conference and colloquium will provide doctoral students, early career researchers and academic staff with an opportunity to present their ongoing work to panel of experts and established scholars to receive helpful feedback. This event will also help participants build scholarly networks with peers and experts in their field. The conference and colloquium will feature parallel sessions in English and French.

2. Research areas of interest to the Conference

Authors' names and details (affiliations and addresses, including that of co-authors), and email address of the corresponding author should appear on a separate cover page. By submitting a paper, you agree that, if the paper is accepted, you or one of your co-authors undertakes to present it during the conference. In addition, one corresponding author should not be listed as presenter for more than one submission.

The deadline for submission of manuscripts is Monday 21 June 2021. Authors are encouraged to register upon acceptance of their paper, and in any case the corresponding author (or the presenter) must register no later than Monday 2 August 2021.

4. Emerging Scholars Colloquium

The 2021 AAFA Annual Emerging Scholars Colloquium (ESC) will take place on 1st September 2021. The colloquium aims to bring together young researchers (doctoral and MPhil Students) to present their work-in-progress and receive feedback from established scholars in the field and to network with their peers and other delegates. Submissions to the Colloquium (in English or French) should be sent electronically to conference@aafassociation.com with the subject line: 2021 AAFA ESC. Submissions should be in the form of an abstract of no more than 500 words, together with a cover page with details of the author and a confirmation of PhD student status. The deadline for submission of manuscripts for this session is Monday 21 June 2021. The ESC will feature a qualitative and quantitative research method workshops.

5. Supporting Journals

The AAFA 2021 conference is supported by a number of high-profile journals:

- Journal of Accounting in Emerging Economies
- Cogent Business & Management (Accounting, Corporate Governance & Business Ethics),
- African Accounting and Finance Journal (AAFJ) – AAFA's peer-refereed journal.
- Corporate Governance Special issue of on Corporate Governance and Sustainable Development Goals in Africa.
- Journal of Chinese Economic and Business Studies
- Special Issue Workshop on Corporate Governance and Sustainable Development Goals in Africa

For authors planning to submit their papers to this special issue of Corporate Governance, the guest editors will hold a workshop during the conference to provide constructive feedback to help strengthen papers and improve the chances of acceptance. Only fully developed papers intended for submission to the special issue will be considered for presentation at the special issue workshop. Please submit to the workshop via the normal AAFA submission process, indicating if you are planning to submit to the special issue by the submission deadline of 1 November 2021. You will be advised if your paper has been accepted for presentation during the workshop stream. Please note that presentation at this workshop is not a prerequisite for submission to the special issue and nor is a guarantee that the paper will eventually be accepted for publication.

- Journal of Chinese Economic and Business Studies (JCEBS) Best Paper Awards 2021

This year, JCEBS gratefully supports the AAFA conference with two JCEBS Best Paper Awards (150 USD each). Accepted submissions will be considered for the award and if agreeable, the shortlisted papers will be considered through the journal's review process. The scope of the journal broadly addresses economics, business, accounting and finance. Submissions do not necessarily need to focus on the Chinese context.

- African Accounting and Finance Journal (AAFJ) Best Paper Prizes 2021

In collaboration with AAFJ's editorial board, AAFA will award two conference paper prizes (USD 100 each), respectively in accounting and in finance. Accepted submissions will be considered for the award and if agreeable, the shortlisted papers will be considered through the journal's review process.

6. AAFA 2021 Invited Speakers

We are pleased to welcome a number of speakers for our emerging scholars' colloquium and our conference. These presentations will provide developmental opportunities for the benefit of doctoral/emerging scholars in quantitative and qualitative approaches together with coverage of emerging issues in accounting and finance. We are grateful for the support of the PhD Project and the International Association for Accounting Education and Research \(IAAER\).

Yves Gendron

Yves Gendron is a Professor of Accounting at Université Laval, in Québec City. Yves is highly committed to qualitative research. One of his main endeavors as qualitative researcher is to better understand key features of public accountants' daily lives, such as how they make decisions in action or how they go through difficult and stressful situations. Yves is also interested in legitimization processes surrounding public accountants' claims to expertise, seeking to comprehend how public accountants attempted to establish their presence in the jurisdictions of performance measurement, online auditing, and consulting. As such, his research in the area has contributed to the development of a social critique regarding the extent of commercialism within the field of public accounting. Yves has also studied corporate governance processes within public companies, focusing on the role of audit committees and that of compensation committees. He also carried out several epistemological studies, having examined objects such as the relationship between research and practice, the birth of the interpretive paradigm of accounting research, and the extent of performativity pressures in contemporary academia. Yves' academic work has been published in a variety of journals such as Accounting, Organizations and Society; Auditing: A Journal of Practice & Theory; Critical Perspectives on Accounting; Contemporary Accounting Research; European Accounting Review, Journal of Management Studies and Organization Studies. He is currently Co-Editor in Chief of Critical Perspectives on Accounting.
